

Hile Rutledge, MSOD

Hile Rutledge is a certified master trainer with both the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator® (MBTI®) assessment and the EQ-i 2.0 (Emotional Intelligence) assessment. He is the author of the MBTI® Introduction Workbook and the EQ Workbook and the co-author of the revised Type Talk At Work, Narrative Intelligence Workbook, Generations: Bridging the Gap with Type, and Portraits of Jung Type Behavior®.

Hile is an experienced organization development consultant, trainer and public speaker with a background in management, sales, adult education and leadership development.

Hile's primary area of expertise is the practical use of assessment tools in aiding self-awareness, leadership and team development. Although Hile specializes in the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator (MBTI®) assessment, the EQ-i2.0® and the PMAI® (Pearson-Marr Archetype Indicator), he is also certified in the use of many other assessment instruments.

Hile has done extensive work with Fortune 500 companies and federal agencies, working with individuals and teams at all levels from C-suite to front line sales force. His public and private sector clients' needs include team building, communications and feedback training, conflict management, strategic planning, skills-based workshops for groups and teams of all sizes, introductory talks and keynote speeches.

During his career, Hile has found success in archaeology, public relations, sales management, career counseling and organization development consulting. Hile has a BA in Humanities from Hampden-Sydney College and a Master of Science in Organization Development from the American University (AU/NTL). Hile resides with his family in Falls Church, Virginia.
