Clinical Education

Does this program have a requirement for all students to complete at least one clinical education experience for which the students would be required to seek alternative housing or travel accommodations to attend Yes X No

Note: Students are responsible for costs associated with housing, travel and food during clinical education. Programs should add any additional comments about clinical education here.

Duke DPT partners with clinical sites across the country. Students are expected to be prepared to travel away from the local area in order to fulfill program clinical education requirements and/or participate in desired clinical experiences.

All costs incurred during clinical education coursework is, at all times, the student’s responsibility. Location of suitable housing and maintenance of dependable transportation is also the responsibility of the student. Potential costs include those related to:

- housing, travel, and other living expenses
- arrangements for pet care and childcare
- fulfillment of additional compliance requirements required by clinical site
- additional requirements of matching to a clinical site, including travel for an on-site interview
- access and utilization of emergency services
