The Career Advice You Probably Didn’t Get – What Women in Medicine Can Learn from Each Other

Managing a career in medicine involves making hard choices, coping with curveballs, identifying role models, staying inspired and motivated, juggling your personal and professional lives, and finding meaning in the everyday so you can live a fulfilling life on your terms.

No matter what our stage of career, we can all benefit from sharing experiences to help us “figure it out.” Join us for a lively, interactive panel discussion with alumnae who will tell their stories and ask you to share advice you would give your younger self.

Medical Student and Alumni Team-Building and Luncheon
Washington Duke Inn

Calling all Blue Devil Docs! Duke medical students are delighted for the opportunity to mingle with alumni in this unique, interactive, and fun activity. Much like how students today learn in a “flipped classroom” with a team-based learning approach, teams in this exercise must utilize their skills in creative problem solving, focus, communication, leadership, and delegation, as they collaborate to decipher clues, solve puzzles, and crack codes to solve “the case.” How will your team do when the clock is ticking and the pressure is on?

After you and your teammates have tested your wits, join students for lunch to continue the camaraderie!

All alumni, spouses, and family members over the age of 16 can register to participate.
2 – 4 pm

Reconnect with Duke and Durham Tours

Duke Lemur Center Tour
Spend time touring the world’s largest and most diverse collection of lemurs outside of Madagascar.

Duke Smart Home Tour
Today’s students are motivated to make a difference in the world, and what better way to do that than to study sustainable living? Tour the world’s first LEED platinum-ranked live-in laboratory and see how the students use innovative solutions for less impact on the environment.

Taste of Carolina Tour
Explore the foodie culture of downtown Durham. Along the way, you’ll learn about renovated tobacco warehouses, the Durham Performing Arts Center and American Tobacco Warehouse, Historic Parrish Street, and more. With a farm-to-table focus and artisan preparation of innovative cuisine, you will discover all of Durham’s flavors! To learn more, visit www.tastecarolina.com.

Explore the Human and Autonomy Lab Tour – North Building
From drones to self-driving vehicles, the need for human interaction with machines is changing every day. Hear from the members of the team studying those interactions and see how the explosion of autonomous technology in aviation, medicine, and even driving are creating opportunities for engineering innovation.

Bus Tour of Duke Campus and Downtown Durham
Join this bus tour to learn how campus is growing and see how downtown has come to life with the innovation district, new restaurants, hotels, and small businesses.

Duke Gardens Tour
There are many new and improved garden areas at Duke Gardens. Join this walking tour to see your old favorites as well as the new Japanese garden, a just-completed woodland stream garden, and the Charlotte Brody Discovery Garden.

Medical Center Walking Tour
See the Duke Medicine Pavilion, Trent Semans Center for Health Education, and Duke Cancer Center. This tour involves extensive walking.
