

Excellence in Professionalism Award

Purpose of the Award:

The School of Medicine Excellence in Professionalism Award recognizes the importance of promoting ethical and professional behavior within our community. Duke's success in reaching our goals in research, teaching and patient care depends on our ability to work effectively with each other, to reach across differences, and to actively cultivate a healthy work environment. This award recognizes faculty members who exemplify professionalism and promote such values as honesty, respect, integrity, inclusion, empathy, and compassion.

Previous Award Recipients:

- 2020: Lisa Amaya-Jackson, MD, MPH
Lawrence Crawford, MD
Laura E. Heyneman, MD
Andrew J. Muir, MD
- 2019: Jeffrey Baker, MD, PhD
Harry R. Phillips, III, MD, FACC
Lisa C. Pickett, MD, FACS
Cynthia K. Shortell, MD
- 2018: Isaac O. Karikari, MD
Christine E. Marx, MD
Cara L. O'Brien, MD
Allison K. Ross, MD
- 2017: David E. Attarian, MD, FACS, FAOA
Joseph A. Jackson, Jr., MD, FAAP
Diana B. McNeill, MD
Joseph G. Rogers, MD
- 2016: Christopher B. Granger, MD
Karen C. Wells, PhD
- 2015: Dennis A. Clements, MD, PhD
Thomas R. Kinney, MD
Daniel B. Mark, MD
- 2014: Dan G. Blazer, MD, PhD
John M. Falletta, MD
Laura P. Svetkey, MD, MHS
- 2013: Caroline Haynes, MD, PhD
William S. Yancy, Jr., MD, MHSc